

Full Stack Developer

This professional's responsibilities will consist of developing all stages of software development, as well as managing server, network, and hosting environment. He/She will work with relational and non-relational databases and will interact with APIs and the external world and user interface and user experience. In addition, this professional will have to guaranty throughout the development of programs high levels of security and quality. Moreover, this professional will deal with internal and external clients and will have to understand their business needs.

Requiriments:

Degree in Information Technologies (IT) or similar areas; Specialised knowledge in all stages of software development, server, network, and hosting environment; Relational and non-relational databases; Experience in how to interact with APIs and the external world; Experience in User interface and user experience; Quality assurance; Security concerns throughout the program; Understanding customer and business needs; Fluent in English; Experience in the following programs: MySQL, HTML, HTML5, XML, PHP, AJAX, JSON, WebSocket. Experience in Javascript: Ember, jQuery, Node.JS. Experience in CSS, Responsive Design, Apache, Nginx, Git, SVN.

If you have all requirements mentioned previously and you are looking for new challenges send your CV to funchal.candidaturas@randstad.pt

good
to know
you

 randstad