ICE - Scientific Research in Nursing

(Ref. 05/MAC/2.3/A3)

Caracterization:

The purpose of the ICE project is the promotion and development of Scientific Research in Nursing, in the Azores, Madeira and the Canary Islands. Scientific research is a process that solves problems related to the knowledge of real-world phenomena. Organisations involved will share working methods in nursing research, conducting a study of interest and for the three regions, contributing to the increase of scientific knowledge in this area and the local reality.
